

Resources for Organizations & Venues

- The National Endowment for the Arts has compiled a comprehensive list that addresses some specific demographics and emergency preparedness.
- Americans for the Arts has released information and tips to help the arts sector prepare.
- ArtsReady has also shared information for event venues. For those instances when events or programs need to be cancelled, Springboard for the Arts has helpful recommendations and action items for organizations and individuals.
- Hyperallergic has posted a podcast discussing the impact on the arts community and is maintaining and updating a daily report to share updates and resources.

Resources for Individual Artists

- Equal Sound and the Recording Academy have set up relief funds to assist musicians who have had work cancelled. An aggregated list for freelance artists has been set up online and includes information about emergency funding, and is also a place to add resources that you know of.
- Grantmakers in the Arts has pulled together a list of both resources and reading materials. The Haven Foundation and The Rauschenberg Foundation both offer emergency grant funding to individual and freelance artists.
- HowlRound recently recorded a panel discussion to share resources.
- Creative Capital has a list of resources for artists in multiple disciplines.
- LinkedIn has posted information for artists to help navigate contracts and changes.